Breakfast Meeting: Developmental Screening and Early Identification

Description:

After the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit - the High Risk Infant Follow-up (HRIF) Program

The High Risk Infant Program is a part of California Children's Services (CCS) offering developmental and sensory screenings with no financial eligibility for qualified infants and toddlers. Participants will learn:

- Who qualifies for the HRIF
- What services are offered
- How to access these services

Beyond High Risk - what about the others? Low Risk does not mean No Risk

Know the Signs, Act Now is a Center for Disease Control (CDC) program offering no cost materials for parents and professionals regarding developmental milestones from birth to age 5. Participants will learn:

- The Importance of early and regular screening for developmental delays and autism
- How to support families in monitoring developmental milestones
- When and how to seek help
