FAMILY SUPPORT TRAINING LEND PROGRAM FALL 2017 - SPRING 2019

The USC University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD) at Children's Hospital Los Angeles is offering an in-house training program for parents of children with special needs, which is part of the 1-2 year interdisciplinary training program we operate for students from up to 15 other disciplines.

Consistent with our mission as a graduate training facility, the Family Support Training Program focuses on "advanced" level training for selected experienced parents who have an interest in further developing their skills as peer support/family support professionals, family advocates or care coordination specialists. Family Support Trainees do not have to have an advanced degree but must have a minimum of 2 years' family support or other disability community leadership experience.

Family Support Trainees will participate with other trainees on interdisciplinary teams providing services to children seen in the UCEDD clinics and in the overall UCEDD Leadership Training Program which includes lectures and community projects as well.

There will be an meeting the evening of Monday, February 13, 2017 to introduce potential applicants to the LEND program and go over the Family Support Application and Program requirements. Time and location will be provided when you RSVP.
